Fund Factsheet

As of 28 Jan 2025

37/F, Bank of China Tower, 1 Garden Road, Hong Kong

Investment involves risks, including the loss of principal. The price of units or shares of the Funds may go up as well as down. Past performance is not indicative of future results. The value of the Funds can be extremely volatile and could go down substantially within a short period of time. You should read the Fund's Placing Memorandum or Explanatory Memorandum and Product Key Facts Statement for details, including risk factors. Investors should not base investment decisions on this marketing material alone. Please note:

- ChinaAMC Select RMB Bond Fund (the "Fund"), through the RQFII quota obtained by the Manager, invests primarily in RMB denominated fixed income securities issued or distributed in the PRC and may invest a small portion of its assets in PRC A-Shares.
- The Fund is subject to regulations which regulate investments by RQFIIs in the PRC which have just been announced and novel in nature. Any uncertainty and change to the relevant laws and regulations (such as PRC tax laws and repatriation policy) in the PRC may adversely impact the Fund.
- Investment in single country (the PRC) markets involves concentration and other risks not typically associated with investment in more developed economies or markets.
- Investment in RMB debt instruments in the PRC involves liquidity risk, credit risk, credit rating risk and downgrade risk. There may not be a liquid or active market for such RMB debt instruments; the Fund may also be exposed to credit/insolvency risk of issuers of the debt securities. As the credit ratings of the debt instruments of the Fund are largely assigned by the credit agencies in the PRC, the methodologies adopted by such local rating agencies may not be consistent with the international rating agencies. In the event of downgrading in the credit ratings of a debt instrument or its issuer, the Fund's investment value in such security may be adversely affected.
- Investment in the Fund is subject to interest rate risk. Change of macro-economic policies in the PRC such as monetary and fiscal policy may cause changes to market interest rates, affecting the pricing of bonds and thus the return of the Fund.
- The Fund is denominated and settled in RMB; subscription and redemption must be made in RMB. RMB is not freely convertible and is subject to exchange controls and restrictions. There is no guarantee that RMB will not depreciate. HKD Investors may suffer a loss if RMB depreciates against HKD or such other currencies.

▲ Investment Objective

The Fund seeks to achieve capital appreciation and income generation by principally (i.e. up to 100% of its net assets) investing in (i) RMB denominated fixed income instruments, including bonds, issued or distributed within the PRC which (a) are denominated and settled in RMB and (b) are traded on the interbank bond market or are traded or transferred on the exchange market in the PRC, and (ii) fixed income funds (including money market funds) approved by the China Securities Regulatory Commission ("CSRC") and offered to the public in the PRC*.

* Investment in fixed income funds approved by the CSRC which are offered to the public in the PRC will not exceed 10% of the net asset value of the Fund.

Fund Factsheet

▲ Manager's Comment

This January is shortened by the Chinese New Year holiday, so it doesn't offer many new data to investors apart from a weak PMI reading. Investors wouldn't anticipate many policy moves before the annual NPC/CPGCC sessions scheduled in early March. After all, Chinese leadership probably also needs to observe what the Trump administration intends to do. As a result of this situation, the bond market continues to trade the old theme, i.e., weak economic fundamentals and lingering deflation risk. That being said, there are burgeoning signs indicating that a more sustainable economic recovery is likely underway since Dec 2024. These signs, as tentative as they are, show unanimous improvements on multiple fronts. For instance, construction orders, land procurement, steel and concrete outputs, etc., are all better than previous years. The bond market may dismiss these signs as transitory, but it is worthwhile to watch incoming data closely.
